FLASHVUE VIDEO RECRUITING SELECTS REGUS GROUP AS NATIONAL REAL ESTATE PARTNER

Regus Enables Company to Launch 34 U.S. Office Locations Simultaneously

DALLAS - June 21, 2005 – Regus Group (LSE: RGU), the largest provider of On-Demand professional workplaces with 750 worldwide locations, announced today that it has signed a deal with Flashvue Video Recruiting to support the launch of their new proprietary Video Recruiting Service by providing them with an immediate national presence for their Internet-based video recruiting kiosks.

Under the terms of the single agreement, Regus will provide professional locations nationwide for Flashvue Video Recruiting's customer base of corporate human resource recruiters, executive recruiters, universities and vocational schools to send job applicants to record video profiles or video interviews. The initial terms of the agreement include 34 locations around the U.S. with an option for further expansion in the future. After applicants' record their video profiles or video interviews at Flashvue Video Recruiting electronic kiosks, Regus' state-of-the-art technology infrastructure will enable Flashvue Video Recruiting to automatically upload the applicants' video profiles and video interviews directly to the Internet, eliminating the need for them to deliver the videos to the corporate recruiters via CD.

Thomas Capato, Chief Executive Officer of Flashvue Video Recruiting, commented "To help us establish a cost effective, nationwide presence, we conducted an extensive search for a national network provider of high quality locations where corporations would feel comfortable sending applicants to record their video profiles and interviews. Regus was the only company that could deliver the speed, consistency, technical infrastructure and professional level of service for our national launch of 34 locations while providing us with the opportunity to expand later. In addition to their sound business structure, their associates from a customer service perspective have been outstanding in supporting the Flashvue Video Recruiting implementation."

Mark Dixon, Chief Executive Officer of Regus Group, said, "We designed our network of professional workplaces to meet the demands of all types of businesses, including entrepreneurial organizations, such as Flashvue. Our offices, support staff and technological infrastructure will deliver a seamless experience for corporate recruiters and job applicants who use Flashvue's services."
